JANUARY 29th 2005 - Eight bands from all over the country descended on a danville, a small town just east of San Francisco, to celebrate the community, friendship, and family that is Rivalry Records.

This DVD documents the showcase through live footage and video interviews with the bands themselves, expressing who they are and what Rivalry means to them.

Three hundred plus in attendance arrived to take part in a DIY show, with DIY bands, put on by a DIY label. This DVD represents Rivalry's second year in existence, with the promise of more good things to come.
